2 Data Mart Updates and Errors

A Data Mart

A data mart is the access layer of the data warehouse or data vault environment that is used to make data available to the users. The data mart is a subset of the data warehouse/data vault that is usually oriented to a specific business line or team. Data marts are small slices of the data warehouse. Whereas data warehouses/data vaults have an enterprise-wide depth, the information in data marts pertains to a single department. This enables each department to use, manipulate, and develop their data any way they see fit; without altering information inside other data marts or the data warehouse.

B Report Data Updates

EDW will be updated on Monday through Saturday nights no earlier than 8pm E.T. Based on this schedule, users can expect to see the data that is updated in the source application to be reflected in the reports the following day. Data updated in the source application on a Sunday will not be reflected in the EDW report until Tuesday.

If updates fail to load on any night, users will be notified of those failures and any effects with an information bulletin.

C Data Errors

The following table explains data errors and definitions that can show up on any EDW report. See Exhibit 4 for a list of the reports that are available in EDW.

Error Code	Definition	Explanation
-1	Null In Source	No data is available for this field in the source application.
-2	Not Applicable	The field listed on the report does not have a corresponding field in the source application.
-3	No Dimension	The field does not have an associated link available to return reporting results from the source application.
-11	Invalid in Source	The value in the source application does not match the list of valid results expected in the report.

B Access Levels

EDW access will be determined based on the OIP Code in the user's security profile. There will be three levels of access; National, State, and county. These three levels will guide the dashboards and reports the user is able to access based on their role.

C Requesting Access

For the initial release of EDW, access has been granted to all applicable FSA employees. For access requests after the initial release, an FSA-13A will need to be submitted to security. See the table below for the applicable Role Name to be listed on FSA-13A.

Employee Level	Role Name
County Office	ASAG-BIRPT-PRD-CNTY
State Office	ASAG-BIRPT-PRD-ST

4 Data Accessibility

A General Data Accessibility

The data accessibility is based upon the user's role. Unless restricted, as provided in subparagraph B, users will be able to run consolidated reports across multiple counties and/or States based on the user's role

General report aggregation is defined as follows.

User Role	Default View	Accessible Views	Ability To Consolidate
State	First State, listed alphabetically, associated to the user's profile.	All States and counties.	Multiple States.
County	First county, listed alphabetically, associated to the user's profile.	All States and counties.	Multiple Counties within a State.

B Market Sensitive Reports

An additional layer of security has been placed on reports that have been determined to have the potential of being market sensitive. These reports will have the ability to consolidate data, restricted as follows.

User Group	Ability To Consolidate
State	One State at a time.
County	One county at a time.

Reports that are affected by this additional restriction are listed below.

Report Area	Report Name
Acreage	County Crop Acreage Report.
	Summary Crop Acreage Report.
	Producer Crop Acreage Report.
	Certification Status Report.

FSA BI Announcements Section	This section contains any newly added features/additions/updates to the current reports.

22 Filtering Options in EDW

A Overview

All reports will have the same basic functionality for filtering. A dashboard filter is interactive and is always displayed on the dashboard page so that the user can filter for different values without having to re-run the dashboard. The filters may be dependent on previous selections. For example, if a user selects an Associated State the Associated County values will be updated to only show the relevant counties to the state selected. All filters for a report will display when the user selects the report in the header.

Users do not need to make a selection for all filters. Once the desired prompts are entered, users shall CLICK "Apply" to generate the report. The State and County Office prompts will be defaulted based on the user role as outlined in paragraph 3 of this handbook.

B Example of the FSA BI Home Page

The following is an example of a filter.

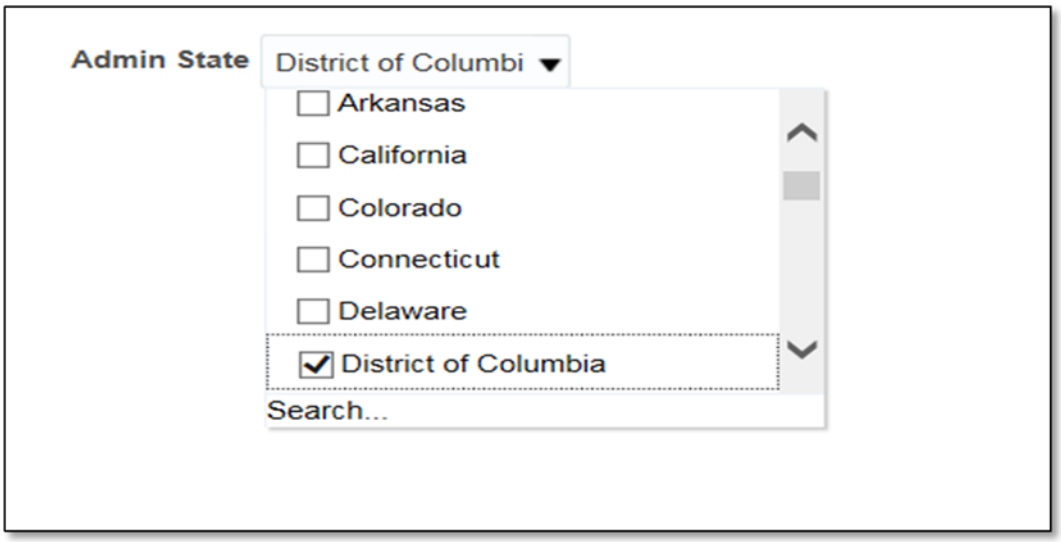
C Selecting Multiple Options

When a report is designed to allow a user to select more than one option for any filter, the user will see a check box next to the listed name. Users can select one or more options to add to the filter according to the following. The example is a subset of one of the filter options expanded to show the choices in the drop-down menu.



23 Download CCID Data Link

A Overview

Certain reports contain a link to Download CCID data. When this link is selected additional sensitive reporting columns will be added to the report. At this time, this link is being used to add the Core Customer Identifier to the following reports.

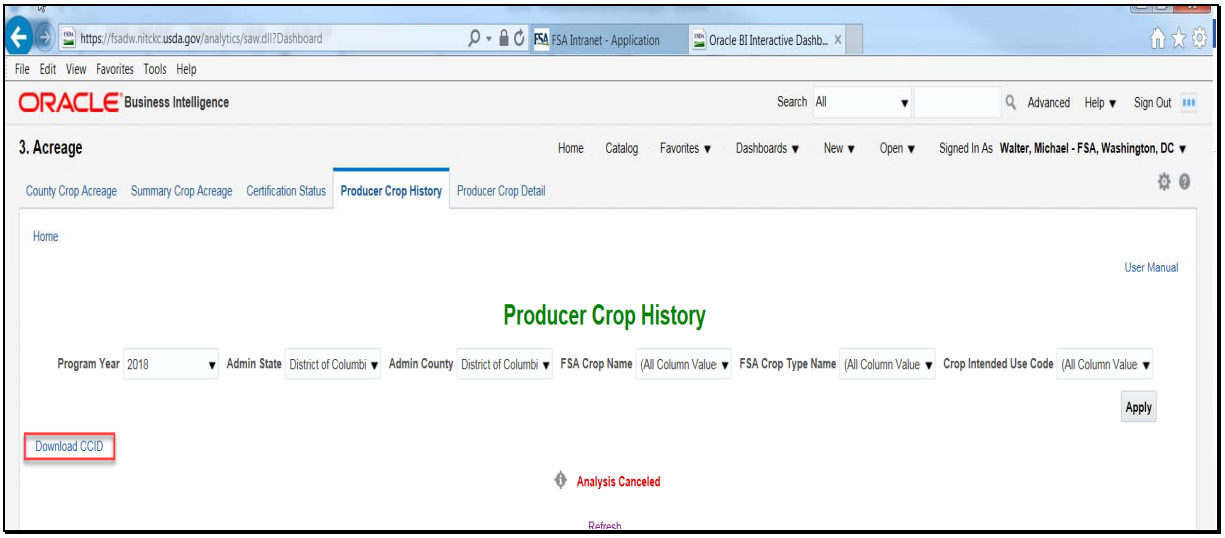
Report Area	Report Name
Business Partner	Name and Address Report
Business Partner	Representative Capacity and Signature Authority Report
Eligibility	Common Producer Eligibility Report
Eligibility	Entity/Joint Operation Members Report
Farm Records	Owner Contact Report
Farm Records	Operator Contact Report
Farm Records	Other Producer Contact Report
All View Contact Report	Certification Status Report
Acreage	Uncertified Farms Report
Acreage	Producer Crop History Report

B Example of the Download CCID Link

The following is an example of the link for downloading CCID data when applicable.

C Download CCID Data Link Options

Users shall run their desired report before taking this option. Once the blue hyperlink is selected the report data will be refreshed and the additional CCID column will be displayed.



24 Report Printing and Exporting

A Overview

EDW has standard printing and exporting options available for all reports. The options for printing or exporting are located at the bottom center of the screen. Users may need to scroll to the bottom of the screen to find this option.

Once the user clicks on the blue hyperlink to print or export, the following options will be displayed.

Options
Printing	PDF or HTML
Exporting	PDF, Excel, PowerPoint, .mht, .CSV, tab delimited, and XML File Format

When exporting to any of the options, the number of lines of data are capped according to space available on desktop and format chosen for export. If users are exporting a large amount of data it is possible that not all data will be exported due to the volume. One workaround is to make two reports by splitting one State into two groups of counties and merging them together once exported.

B Example of the Printing and Exporting Links

The following displays the location and options for printing or exporting a report. This is located at the bottom center of each report.
