Aaron Martin was appointed in October 2009 by President Obama to serve as State Executive Director for U.S. Department of Agriculture, FSA in North Carolina. As State Executive Director for North Carolina, Martin oversees the delivery of farm programs within NC's 77 county offices.

Martin has an extensive career with FSA, since 1978 when he became a County Operations Trainee. Since then, he has served as CED in two county offices and been a member of the STO staff as Compliance and Crop Disaster program Specialist during which time, North Carolina was the first state in the nation to implement and pay producers under the NAP program. Most recently, Martin served as District Director in the Western Region of North Carolina when he received his appointment as State Executive Director.

Aaron has a Bachelor of Science degree from Western Carolina University. He and his wife Lucretia live in Hayesville, NC and have 2 sons.
