Farm Management Classes for Women

Annie's Project courses have been announced for 2015! The project will be held in Delaware, Maryland and Virginia. Annie's Project focuses on the many aspects of farm management and is designed to empower women in overall farm decision making and to build local networks throughout the state. The target audience is women with a passion for business, agriculture and involvement in the farm operation. Topics for the sessions cover the five areas of Risk Management – Production, Marketing, Financial, Legal Risk, Human Resources. This course is open to anyone interested in farm management practices.

The course will be held at a variety of sites near you! The cost of the course including meals and materials is $75. For more information, class sites or to register visit the webpage at www.extension.umd.edu/annies-project or call 410-758-0166. Please register by January 1st, space is limited. If you require special assistance to attend the classes please contact the site at least two weeks prior. The program is sponsored by the University of Maryland Extension, Delaware Cooperative Extension, and Virginia Cooperative Extension. Annie's Project has been approved for FSA Borrower Training. For more information, please contact your FSA loan officer.
