

Clint Otto

Research Ecologist
United States Geological Survey.

Clint Otto is a Research Ecologist for the US Geological Survey stationed at Northern Prairie Wildlife Research Center in Jamestown, North Dakota. Clint is developing a research program to investigate the impacts of land-use change on wildlife habitat and ecosystem services in the Prairie Pothole Region. He received a BS in Biology from the University of Wisconsin Stevens Point and a Master's Degree from Towson University in Maryland. After completing his MS, he worked with USGS at Patuxent Wildlife Research Center as a Wildlife Technician. In 2012, he completed his PhD in