Tim Manning was appointed to serve as Florida Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director in November 2009. He previously served as the Mediation and Appeals Coordinator at the agency. Tim has been with the Farm Service Agency (FSA), formerly Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) for 33 years, where he has served as District Director and Administrative Officer.

Tim was raised on a cattle and timber ranch in Putnam County. He and his family had one of the last naval stores in Florida. After high school, Tim was responsible for the naval operations and cutting and replanting of 1500 acres of timber. Additionally, Tim owned a cow and calf operation in Northeast Florida.

Having been raised on a farm and having ranched himself, Tim understands the challenges facing our farmers and ranchers in today's economy. He is committed to working with all commodity groups, state, and federal agencies to promote Florida's agricultural industry.

He attended the University of Florida where he received his degree in Agriculture. After graduation he taught Vocational Agriculture while working on his Master's Degree.
