Supplemental Revenue Assistance Program (SURE)

The sign-up for 2010 losses begins Nov. 14, 2011 and will end June 1, 2012.

The Supplemental Revenue Assistance Program (SURE) provides benefits for farm revenue losses due to natural disasters that incurred in the crop year 2010. SURE is available to eligible producers on:

- Farms in counties with Secretarial disaster declarations, including contiguous counties that have incurred at least a 10% crop production or quality loss, or both. All economically significant crops grown by a producer are eligible, except grazed crops.
- Any farm in which disaster-related conditions reduced the actual crop year production on the farm to 50 percent or less than normal production of the farm.

Adjusted Gross Income Report to IRS – Act Now

Producers should remember they must submit an Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) verification consent form (CCC-931) to maintain eligibility for 2010 and 2011 program benefits. Individuals and legal entities now are using one form: CCC-931 Average Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) Certification and Consent to Disclosure of Tax Information.

The consent form authorizes IRS to verify that a producer's AGI is within the requirements for FSA programs eligibility. Producers who failed to file these forms before Sept. 2011 will receive a final notice from the National Office. This notice will give the producer a final opportunity to submit the CCC-931 prior to becoming ineligible for all program payments (with the exception of some earlier multi-year CRP contracts.) The letter will provide instruction on where the completed form must be sent.

IRS requires written consent from all individuals or legal entities before

Loans for the Socially Disadvantaged

FSA has a number of loan programs available to assist applicants to begin or continue in agriculture production. Funds are available for operating loans and to purchase or improve farms or ranches (ownership loans.)

While all qualified producers are eligible to apply for these loan programs, the FSA has provided priority funding for members of socially disadvantaged applicants.

A socially disadvantaged applicant is someone who has been subjected to racial, ethnic or gender prejudice because of his or her identity as a member of a group, without regard to his or her individual qualities.

For purposes of this program, socially disadvantaged groups are women, African Americans, American Indians, Alaskan Natives, Hispanics, Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders. FSA loans are only available to applicants who meet all the eligibility requirements and are unable to obtain the needed credit elsewhere.

CREP & Continuous CRP Available

The Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program (CREP) allows farmers and ranchers to voluntarily enroll environmentally sensitive land into a program that decreases erosion, restores wildlife habitat and safeguards ground and surface water. CREP is a partnership with the federal government and the State of Oregon and covers all areas of the state.

Environmentally sensitive acreage qualifying for the Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program (CREP) or Continuous CRP will be eligible for annual rental payments and cost-share of up to 50 percent from FSA and 25 percent from the State of Oregon on approved practices. These programs will remain funded, and continue to provide heightened environmental benefits on select areas.

Contact Lorie Atkinson, in the FSA office or Josh Togstad, our riparian technician with the Soil and Water Conservation District for more information. (503-472-1474 x104)

Hispanic and Women Farmers

A process to resolve the claims of Hispanic and women farmers and ranchers who believe they were discriminated against when seeking USDA farm loans has been established.

If you believe that the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) improperly denied farm loan benefits to you between 1981 and 2000 because you are Hispanic or because you are female, you may be eligible to apply for compensation.

Marketing Assistance Loans

Marketing Assistance loans are commodity loans available to producers who share in the risk of producing the crop. To be eligible, you must maintain beneficial interest in the crop through the time of application. Beneficial interest means retaining the ability to make decisions about the commodity, maintaining responsibility for loss or damage to the commodity, and maintaining title to the commodity. Once beneficial interest in the commodity is lost, the commodity is ineligible for a loan.

Commodity loan eligibility also requires compliance with conservation and wetland protection requirements; reporting use of cropland acreage on the farm and ensuring that the commodity meets CCC minimum grade and quality standards. For commodities to be eligible they must have been produced by an eligible producer, and exist in a storable and merchantable condition for food, feed or other uses as determined by CCC. The quality of the commodity in farm storage must be maintained throughout the term of the loan.

Producers do not have to participate in the Direct and Counter-Cyclical Program to be eligible for commodity loans.

Violating provisions of a marketing assistance loan may trigger administrative actions, such as assessing liquidated damages, calling the loan and denial of future farm-stored loans. The most common violations are removing or disposing of a commodity being used as loan collateral without prior authorization and providing an incorrect quantity certification.

Eligible commodities include: wheat, field corn (including silage), barley, oats, honey, flax seed, mustard seed, rape seed, safflower, soybeans, sunflower seed, crambe and whole dry peas (smooth green, smooth yellow, wrinkled, winter field, mixed dry & miscellaneous.)

Unauthorized Deposition of Grain or Other Commodity

If grain or any commodity under loan has been disposed of through feeding, selling or any other form of disposal without prior written authorization from the county office staff, it is considered unauthorized disposition. The financial penalties for unauthorized dispositions are severe and a producer's name is placed on a loan violation list for a two-year period. Always call to check for restrictions before you haul any commodity under loan.

Native American Farmers and Ranchers

The claims process is open until December 27, 2011 for Native American farmers and ranchers who believe they are entitled to funds under the Keepseagle settlement. Claims packets must be completed and submitted by December 27, 2011 to have a chance to receive a cash payment or loan forgiveness.

Claimant services representatives can be reached through the Keepseagle claims website: <http://www.indianfarmclass.com> or through calling 888-233-5506. Claimants must register for a claims package (by calling or visiting the website) and the claims package will be mailed to the claimants.

Get Your FSA Records Up to Date Now

Now is the time to get your land records updated at the local FSA office before any contracting starts for 2012. If you have picked up new ground, dropped a lease or if you have purchased or sold ground, please let the office know so we can update the files. If you have purchased, bring a copy of the deed or tax records; if it is new leased ground bring the lease or have the owner give the office a call.

Do you farm in more than one county and would like your records transferred to one county for ease of administration? Get that started now as well. Your owner(s) must agree to the transfer, so don't wait until you want to sign your contracts or do an acreage report.

eNewsletters and eUpdates through Gov Delivery!

The Farm Service Agency is providing more cost-effective and resource-conserving options to deliver news, deadlines and bulletins. You have the option to receive information instantly and electronically from your state or local FSA office directly to your farm or ranch. Several states already have GovDelivery for news releases. Oregon is getting the system up and running.

Take a look at your current state and county options for electronic delivery by visiting the FSA home page at www.fsa.usda.gov. Click on the small E-MAIL UPDATES icon and once you enroll in GovDelivery, you can select electronic subscriptions via e-mail. For more information contact your FSA state office and watch for more news and opportunities to sign up to receive your news quicker and at less cost via e-mail.

Oregon county offices are currently getting training on GovDelivery and if you have already signed up in Yamhill County, you might have gotten our first attempt at submitting a bulletin.

Be sure to tell your friends, relatives and neighbors about this changes in the way FSA is providing information. If you are with an organization that would like an FSA representative to speak to your group about this or any of our programs, please contact the local office.

Changing Banks

Almost all Farm Service Agency payments are made electronically using Direct Deposit.

To maintain efficient payment processing, it is critical to keep the county office staff up to date on changes you might make with your financial institutions.

If you have made changes to accounts or have changed banking institutions, these changes might affect the direct deposit of your FSA payments. When changes like these are made, be sure to contact the FSA county office so we can update our records to ensure efficient and uninterrupted service.
