1 Overview

Background

RD Instruction 1955-C, Section 1955.107 explains the process for advertising and selling inventory property. As provided in FSA’s enabling statute, all inventory property must be advertised for sale to beginning farmers or ranchers before being made available to the general public.

The Consent Decree in Civil Action No. 97-1978, Pigford v. Veneman, mandates priority consideration for claimants who prevailed on their claim and, therefore, requires certain changes in disposing of inventory property.

2 Advertising and Selling Inventory Property

A Implementation for Beginning Farmers

All inventory property will continue to be advertised for sale to beginning farmers or ranchers unless it meets the criteria identified in subparagraph B. However, any prevailing claimant in the civil action Pigford vs. Veneman may exercise their priority consideration in response to the advertisement.

The initial paragraph in the advertisement must be modified to state the following:

“The property is being offered for sale to those individuals Farm Service Agency (FSA) considers to be qualified beginning farmers or ranchers, and all prevailing claimants in the civil action Pigford vs. Veneman qualified beginning farmers or ranchers who are prevailing claimants will be given first priority consideration in the purchase of this property. If more than one beginning farmer or rancher who is a prevailing claimant submits an application, priority within this group will be determined by lottery. Qualified beginning farmers or ranchers must be in need of FSA credit assistance either in the form of direct FSA financing or an FSA guaranteed loan. For other requirements and information on how to qualify as a beginning farmer or rancher, you may contact your local FSA office.”

If applications are received from beginning farmers or ranchers who are not prevailing claimants, and prevailed claimants who are not beginning farmers or ranchers, priority remains with the beginning farmers or ranchers.

If, in response to the above advertisement, an application is received only from a prevailing claimant who is not a beginning farmer or rancher, the property will be offered to the applicant at market value.

B Implementation for All Others

- is not sold in response to the advertisement to a beginning farmer, rancher, or a prevailing claimant
- cannot be used for agricultural purposes
