WASHINGTON, May 23, 2025- The Trump Administration recently appointed Sine Kerr as the new State Executive Director (SED) for the USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) in Arizona. Kerr joined the Arizona FSA team on May 5, 2025.

"When America's farming communities prosper, the entire nation thrives. This new group of USDA appointees will ensure President Trump's America First agenda is a reality in rural areas across the country. I am grateful for the leadership of these new state directors and look forward to their work reorienting the agency to put Farmers First again," said Agriculture Secretary Brooke Rollins.

"FSA State Executive Directors serve in a critical role carrying out USDA's mission at the state level - ensuring that our focus is on meeting the needs of local agricultural producers by putting farmers and ranchers first," said FSA Administrator Bill Beam. "Rural communities need our support now more than ever. Our newly appointed state leaders bring a wealth of knowledge and expertise to their position as SED and they will play an integral role in shaping the future of agriculture in their state."

Prior to joining USDA, Kerr was first appointed, then elected to the Arizona State Senate serving from 2018 to 2025. She was Chairwoman of the Natural Resources, Energy, and Water Committee, where she dedicated her time championing legislation for the betterment and protection of agriculture. After 43 years in the dairy business, Kerr and her family now operate a cow-calf operation, selling beef to the public and they grow alfalfa, silage corn, bermuda, oats, rye, and sorghum.

As SED, Kerr is responsible for overseeing the delivery of FSA programs to agricultural producers in Arizona. These commodity, conservation, credit, and disaster assistance programs ensure a safe, affordable, abundant and nutritious food, fiber, and fuel supply for all Americans. See USDA news release for full list of recent FSA and Rural Development appointees.

FSA helps America's farmers, ranchers and forest landowners invest in, improve, protect and expand their agricultural operations through the delivery of agricultural programs for all Americans. FSA implements agricultural policy, administers credit and loan programs, and manages conservation, commodity, disaster recovery and marketing programs through a national network of state and county offices and locally elected county committees.
